Willard Newman filed a petition at city hall yesterday for re-classification of his triangular property bounded by Torres, Mountain View and Ocean Avenue from R-1 (single family dwelling) to "apartment use."

Presumably he had signatures of owners of 50 percent of the property of the "zone of interest." City Clerk Lawrence Rose had not yet had time to verify.

Some of the signers are now saying they intend to write to city hall to have their name removed from the petition because they were not aware that:

There is no "apartment use" classification, and the most restrictive reclassification the planning commission could give the property would be the new C-1-L, limited commercial, which permits: apartments, motels, hotels; incidental uses primarily designed for the convenience of the occupants, and conditional uses such as gift shops, restaurants, professional offices, certain retail stores. This classification was created for entrance areas at the edge of but within the business zone.

The signers say that Mr. Newman told them Admiral C. W. Fisher and the Carmel Citizens' Committee approved the petition. A disclaimer by Admiral Fisher is printed elsewhere on this page.

They were given the impression that the Presbyterian Church would be enhanced by a 12 unit apartment across the street and that the church authorities favored the re-classification. Actually, the deacons of the church met, voted not to sign the petition and went on record as not supporting the re-classification.

Mr. Newman said he was filling a great need often expressed by the planning commission, for low rent apartments within walking distance of the center of town. However, the planning commission was thinking of apartments within the commercial zone, where there is still a lot of room for them. And a twelve unit, two story apartment house with a third, basement story, devoted to 12 car parking, will not be low rent.

There is no surety there will be an apartment house on that land if it is re-classified. It could and probably will be a motel. And there is no assurance Mr. Newman will build it. Once his low value residence property is classified as high value business property, he can sell it to some other developer. You don't rezone the man; you rezone the land.

Aside from the various undesirable elements in this specific application, there is a serious long term danger involved in it.

In the history of the town, there has never been a zoning of residence to business property. Many who own residence property adjacent to the business district have shown from time to time they'd like re-zoning to business classification, especially the ones on West side of Lincoln, North of Ocean. There is nothing to make New-

Board Ear Deep In Architects, Heating Units, Frozen Food And Paint For "Little Red School House"

Carmel School Board members heard architectural reports on progress at two school sites, and appointed architects for expansion at a third at a regular meeting last night.

Thomas Elston of Elston and Cranston appeared before the board to present more detailed documents of study and work areas shown on the original master plan for the new junior high school at the entrance to Carmel Valley.

He said some minor rearrangements are contemplated on the original plan. Plans now call for heating with gas-fired units and forced-air conditioning, without any fresh air intake from windows. Planning on the new school is running one month behind a schedule set up this fall.

Elston-Cranston was also appointed to plan the River School $15,000 expansion. The firm did the original planning for the school.

Speaking before the board for his firm, Burde, Shaw and Kearns Associates, Walter Burde showed master drawings of existing facilities and proposed expansion at Carmelo School.

Several new classroom units will be built and the entrance lane moved from Carmel Valley Road to Schulte Road, for increased safety and convenience. Construction is scheduled to begin in April on the first unit of the expansion, which is to include two large playground areas, one covering an entire leg of the L-shaped property, covered walks to all classrooms, and a stage for outdoor theater.

Burde suggested the color for the old and new structures be "something appropriate for a country school—red. I have in mind a red oxide color used on the barns in Sweden."

The board wanted more study done on the plan for radiant heating, which some teachers have complained is unequal and difficult to regulate, and on inclusion of space for a possible library, and more screening for play areas. The board withheld approval of all plans pending a viewing of them by the Carmelo teaching staff.

At the meeting the board also heard a report of a joint meeting of the Citizens Educational Advisory Committee and the Professional Study Committee and took note of a memorandum prepared Council Takes 2nd Tax Bite For Ocean Ave.

The Carmel City Council, with one "no" vote, that of Gunnar Norberg, decided last night that all the taxpayers should bear the additional cost of paving and draining Ocean Avenue, the owners of high income producing Ocean Avenue property paying proportionally no more than the retired teacher who owns a Carmel cottage and can't afford a car, ten cents per $100.

Christmas Pageant At Sunset School Tuesday Evening

Sunset School again will present this year its annual Christmas gift to the community in the form of a Christmas Pageant. This is in keeping with tradition dating back to 1929.

The program is under the general direction of Sunset's music instructor, Mr. Jack Douglas, and will feature a 52 voice choir that will make its traditional entry to Adestes Fidelis. The choir, along with tableaux scenes and narration will present the pageant What Child Is This?, a story based on an old German legend.

Mr. Douglas will be aided in the production by Kenneth Wiese, in charge of scenery and stage crew, Joe Broadman, lighting and curtains; and Tom Cloud who is coaching the narrators and tableaux participants.

The performance will be in Sunset Auditorium, Tuesday evening, at 8:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend, free of charge.

Members of the cast are:

Choir — Patricia Aldrich, Margarita Alvarez, Meredith Burde, Anne Brown, Joyanne Coggin, Kathleen Comings, Peggy Cole, Linda Carstensen, Judith Davies, Susan Draper, Carman Edwards, Natalie Pilatiev, Nancy Farr, Kathy Farr, Diana Fischer, Cindy Flint, Paula Garvey, Gloria

Norberg voted no at the fall budget meeting when the new city council jumped the property taxes by 21 cents, six cents of it to provide for Ocean Avenue improvement. Last night, when the council met to decide how it would get and additional $6,753 for the job (there had been a slip up in the estimate) and decided to use general funds (four cents on the taxpayers next year) Norberg again voted no.

His reasons: "I had suggested last fall that we wait until we had accumulated the money. The first levy was blood money coming out of the taxpayer. Now you are going back for more of the same."

Norberg urged postponing the project: "There is nothing immediate or urgent."

City Engineer Clayton Neill, called upon by Mayor Frank Putnam for an opinion on the urgency of the project, said: "We could live with it for a few years, but your ideas keep getting larger, so perhaps you need to keep abreast of your deterioration."

The council turned down the alternatives: (1) assessment district, (2) assessment of Ocean Avenue property, (3) the traditional co-operative formula by which the property owner pays for the materials and the city furnishes the labor. This is the way the Junipero Street drainage is being handled. With one or two exceptions this is the way all Carmel street projects were financed.

City Clerk Lawrence Rose said that the legal and administrative cost for an assessment district

Carmel Writer Heads Anti-State Execution Group, Reports Plans

By RAYLYN PENNEY

As chairman of the Monterey County chapter of the recently organized Californians Against State Executions, Lester Gorn of Carmel Highlands, working with other committeemen, is spending this month gearing for a series of moves early next year which will "force Californians to face the capital punishment issue without flinching."

This accomplishment alone, Gorn feels, "will help reasonable people everywhere recognize capital punishment for what it is—vengeance in the hands of the state."

The new organization, which comes out CASE in "initials," is the result of a compounding of all former California organizations which have been working toward abolition of capital punishment, including the locally active Committee for the Abolition of Capital Punishment, headed by Winston Elstob of Pacific Grove.

Elstob is now on the CASE county steering committee, and is one of four local members of the state board. Others are Gorn and Francis Heisler and Milton Mayer of Carmel.

Among the major actions contemplated by the local group of CASE will be the gathering of a seven-man panel of prominent local citizens who are non-members to form a non-partisan fact-finding group. Most of them, according to Gorn, will be people who have made it known publicly that they favor retention of capital punishment.

The CASE committee hopes the

CARMEL HIGH WINS GUSTINE HOOP TOURNAMENT

Sparked by the brilliant all-around play of little Mike Draper, Coach Dan Yurkovich's Padre basketball squad took home most of the gold in the popular Gustine Invitational Tournament. The Padres whipped Le Grande, Los Banos, and Hughson on their way to the title and had easy going in all games except Friday night's semi-final clash with Los Banos. The Red & Gray quintet breezed by Le Grande with very little difficulty, edged Los Banos, 45 to 43, and won the title with a convincing 49-40 victory over the hard-trying Hughson aggregation.

Mike Draper, a 5-8 guard who jumps like he's 6-8, was named the most valuable player in the tournament and earned a spot on the all-tourney team and was the tournament's top rebounder. Draper pumped in 42 points in the three games, hitting 10 against Le Grande, 17 against Los Banos, and adding 15 in the Hughson tilt. Chris Wilkin chalked up 35 markers in the three games, but his rebounding overshadowed his fine shooting efforts during the tourney. Along with twin brother John, the Wilkins had complete command of the boards in all three games and gave the Padres ball control on their way to the tournament championship. Besides doing an outstanding job of rebounding John Wilkin also proved to be the top defensive man in the tournament. The rugged 225-pounder blanked two of his opponents with his octopus-type defensive play.

With the big win in the Gustine Tournament, the Padres again establish themselves as the team to beat in the CCAL B-division. Valuable game experience was picked up by the entire Padre squad and it will take a good B-league team to clip the high-flying Carmel gang.

PADRES HOST KING CITY FRIDAY NIGHT; AT GONZALES SATURDAY

Plenty of basketball action in store for the Carmel High hoopers this weekend as they tackle King City in a triple-header Friday night and travel to Gonzales Saturday night for another triple-header. Both the King City and Gonzales tilts are league affairs with King City expected to offer a much sterner test than the small Spartan squad. Friday night's action at the Carmel High pavilion starts off with a junior-varsity fracas at 5:00 o'clock, lightweights at 7:00 o'clock, and the varsity clubs answering the whistle at 8:30. Same starting times prevail at Gonzales on Saturday night.

The King City Mustangs showed good power last Friday night, clipping the Pacific Grove Breakers in a 37-33 B-league tilt. The Mustangs have good height and fine speed and could give the tall Padres a tussle for the rebounds. In (Continued on Page Three)

Don Schmidt, Dennis Frudden, and Randy Dotson, King City has three seasoned performers who saw considerable varsity action in last year's league play.

Gonzales has its usual small fast team but the Spartans will have to be equipped with stilts if they expect to get any rebounds against the likes of Chris and John Wilkin and Scott Forbes. Coy Bear-den, Erasmo Segundo, and Dave Guzman give the Spartans good front line speed but the stubby Gonzales lads appear to be over-matched against the Padres.

Carmel will open the action with its usual starting five of Mike Draper and Bob Little, guards; John Wilkin, center; with Chris Wilkin and Scott Forbes at the forward spots.

Coach Dick Lawitzke's junior-varsity gang will be after win number three in Friday night's clash with King City. Starting line-up for the Carmel jayvees will be Pete Morse and John Marshall, forwards; Jim Kelley, center; Bob Palma and Dave Harber at the guards.

Carmel's inexperienced lightweight squad will be back in its own league against King City and Gonzales after trying its hand in the classy Salinas Tournament over the weekend. The Little Padres were clipped by North Salinas and Junipero in the two games they played but they gained valuable experience in the tournament and should rate an even chance with the King City lads. Pacific Grove's lightweight squad rubbed the King City lights, 33 to 19, last Friday night and used the reserves during most of the action. If the freshman-laden Carmel lights get a little more consistent shooting and better rebounding, they have a good chance to post their first win of the season. Coach Harold Lippstreu figures to go with a starting five of Steve Johnson and John Lefler, forwards; Bob Wells, center; and Steve Fairfield and Jose Fernandez at the guards.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Larry Cummins' Monterey Peninsula College cagers opened the season with a flourish by winning their first three games against the College of the Sequoias and Modesto JC. The Lobos cut down the Giants in a pair of games and hung one decision on the good Modesto club. However, the Lobos found the Bakersfield JC quintet a little too rugged last Saturday night and dropped a 58-43 verdict to the rugged Apaches. Two ex-Padre cagers have been cavorting for the Lobos this season as Russ Wise, a 1960 graduate, joins Bill Hicks, a letterman from last year's MPC hoop squad. Coach Ed Larsh's Monterey High quintet is finding the going rather sticky in early season play, dropping decisions to Berkeley and McClymonds in regular play and doing no better than third in the Santa Cruz Invitational Tournament. The Torreadores won the Santa Cruz Tourney last year and were favored to cop the nod again this season. However, the darkhorse North Salinas gang breezed through the tournament in easy fashion to establish the Vikings as the team to beat in the CCAL A-division. Monterey has a star-studded quintet this season and was figured to be too powerful to participate in the Carmel Tournament. With another loss or two, the Torreadores might regain their charter member position in the Carmel hoop festival. Gilroy High's Dick Smith and Fremont High's Bub Bowling, both winners of the Most Valuable Player award in the Carmel Tournament, are holding down play-making positions for the California Bears and the Stanford Indians. Smith appeared on Saturday night's televised California-St. Marys game while Bowling has been Stanford's top playmaker for the last two seasons. Both Smith and Bowling are on the small side but they have the good moves which help them to outmaneuver the big boys.

$32,000 Community Chest quota for this year."

by board member Dr. Richard Snyder on the role of the citizens' group.

Dr. Snyder rejected until later a suggestion that he serve as co-ordinator between the board and the two committees, and recommended that his memorandum was of too detailed a nature to be generally circulated to parents and others until a later time.

In other action the board:

Heard a report from George Yates that the Bank of America, heading a syndicate of investment firms, this Monday purchased the district's recently issued bonds at 3.32 percent.

Approved a request from the guidance committee of Carmel High School for an accelerated program for a student, Frederick Scott.

Delayed for more information approval of a joint telephone use agreement with other Peninsula school districts providing for a private line to the County Court House. Carmel's share, based on a five-month study of number of calls to the court house, would be 27.3 percent of the bill, or $16.38 per month.

Ratified a letter to Mrs. William Hatton confirming purchase arrangements of the land for the new school at the Valley entrance, and arrangements to occupy it beginning August 8, 1961, when construction is to begin.

Approved the November 30 financial report and warrants written since October 6.

Heard a hard-luck story of Bus Number 5, which runs sometimes but more often does not and is supposed to make the "down-valley" run for Tularcitos School but has been laid up several weeks in the repair shop. William Mallek, Tularcitos principal, was authorized to cut the lunch hour at his school so that the bus schedule can be adjusted to do without Bus 5.

Heard a sprinkling of complaints over the experimental frozen-lunch program being tried at the Woods School and contemplated for the new school. A Woods mother in the audience, who said she spoke for "quite a large group of other parents," said the lunches are inadequate and often unpalatable. Other complaints ranged from the protest that "they're new and the kids fight anything new" to a report that lunch buying had dropped off at Woods since the new system went into operation.

would have to be born by the city and would wipe out the saving to the taxpayer. For co-operative handling it is necessary to get the agreement of all the property owners of the street to be improved. One hold-out can defeat the project.

The additional four or four and a half cent tax will be on next year's roll (the six cents was on this) and perhaps it will be less than four cents if the city is lucky in getting a low bid, City Clerk Rose added.

According to the new estimate the job will cost $76,672 instead of $58,986 as figured last fall. Gas tax accumulation will provide $43,518. By committing 1960-61 gas tax, $7,806, and 1961-62 gas tax, $7,800, and taking $1,250 from two other projects the council had a remainder of $13,165 to raise. Of this $7,662 went on the tax roll (about 6 cents of the 21 cent boost) this year; the $5,503 remaining will amount to 4 cents on next year's roll.

Wilderness Of The West

A monthly column by
C. Edward Graves

23. Reviewing "MY WILDERNESS", by Justice William O. Douglas. Doubleday & Co., 1960. 206p. $4.95.

Several years ago Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court wrote an unusual autobiography, with the title Of Men and Mountains. He described the way in which he rose above a childhood crippling by polio to become a hardy mountain climber and a lover of the western wilderness. Now in his early sixties, he still spends much time during the summer recess of the Supreme Court in this favorite type of activity. Undoubtedly his summertime wilderness experiences are an indispensable source of inspiration to him in the heavy burden of his legal work, which is so significant for the welfare of the nation. His recent experiences are the subject-matter of his new book, My Wilderness, just published this fall.

Before commenting on the literary aspects of the book, I should like to compliment the publisher on an unusually fine job of book making. The typography, printing, illustrations by the well-known artist, Francis Lee Jacques, binding and book jacket are all in excellent taste. It is a book that any book lover, whether he is interested in wilderness or not, would be proud to display on his reading table.

Probably the author of a wilderness conservation column runs the risk of being accused of prejudice in reviewing a book of this kind. It is naturally a book after his own heart and it is difficult to curb enthusiasm in writing about it. He can be excused, perhaps, if he expresses a wish that everyone who is interested in the welfare of this wonderful country of ours should read the book, not only for its compelling descriptions of the great scenic areas of the West, but for the author's observations of the necessity of protecting them from commercial encroachments of various kinds.

There are eleven chapters, each covering a wilderness region that the author knows well, from the Brooks Range of Alaska, which Congress is now being asked to preserve in its wilderness state, through Washington and Oregon to the California High Sierra. In each of them special efforts are needed to preserve the status quo in some form or other. Would that Justice Douglas's emphasis on this necessity might result in recruiting more workers in this sadly undermanned field!

One of his favorite haunts is the Willowa Mountains of northeastern Oregon. He describes in some detail the Minam River canyon which starts in the mountains and "winds over forty miles through a canyon that is never more than a half mile wide". The trees and the wild flowers and the granite rocks and the water of the stream, "clearer than any American stream I have seen", have for many years fascinated him. Although it adjoins the Eagle Cap Wilderness Area, it has no protection of its own, and he has just learned of plans for logging it. This of course includes road building.

He writes in sadness: "This passion for roads is partial evidence of our great decline as a people. Without effort, struggle, and exertion, even high rewards turn to ashes . . . Once the interior is tapped by roads, the wilderness is gone forever . . . The bits of wilderness left to us are only tiny islands. The Minam River is one. Turning it over to the lumber interests for cutting and road building would be a reckless act taken in defiance of the wondrous creations God has placed there. It would be another sign that the dollar leads our civilization, that for man's nobler side we leave but a few crumbs".

To all of which this reviewer, having just this summer seen similar desecrations in Oregon's Mt. Hood country, adds a fervid Amen!

UNITY CHURCH CHRISTMAS SERVICE TUESDAY

The Reverend Sonja Samiran of Unity Truth Church announces there will be a Christmas service on Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Morgan Studio, Lincoln Street south of Ocean Avenue. This service will take the place of the weekly class.

On Wednesday evening the annual Unity Truth candlelight service will be held in the House of Four Winds, 540 Calle Principal, Monterey. A special soloist and other Christmas music will be presented. All interested persons are invited to attend, the Reverend Samiran emphasizes.

Mission Oils On Exhibition Saturday, Sunday

Large oil portraits of the 22 California Missions, as they existed in the nineteenth century, will be exhibited, free to the public, in the courtyard of Carmel Mission Basilica on Saturday and Sunday, and within a Mission building for the two weeks following.

The portrayals are the work of John Davies of Pacific Grove. A retired architectural draftsman, Mr. Davies became interested in the Moorish-Spanish type of Mission construction in 1921. The Missions became his hobby. He studied their purpose, life and industry. In 1956 Mr. Davies came into possession of a complete set of prints of the old Missions that were made soon after the secularization period. From these prints and visits to each Mission, he was able to make correct pictures of the buildings when they were first constructed. He added foregrounds depicting some special incident of Mission life, such as some of the 50 arts and trades taught to the Indians by the Franciscan padres, or a wedding party, a funeral procession, a fandango-barbecue.

The 22 pictures are primitive actual portrayals of the Missions and Mission life during the era of the padres. Trees, flowers, shrubs have been authentically reproduced by Mr. Davies. It took him over four years to compose and paint the 22 Mission pictures. The paintings are not for sale, nor have they been reproduced in any way for commercial purposes.

Starting in September, Mr. Davies left the Peninsula with his portrayals in a trailer and drove to San Diego, the southernmost Mission. He has shown his pictures for six days in each Mission, coming north, until he arrived at Carmel for the exhibit this weekend. They are set up on easels which Mr. Davies carries with him.

We Have the NEW Polaroid Electric Eye Camera

Have you seen the exciting new Polaroid Land Camera? It has a tiny electric eye of radical new design that sets both the lens opening and the shutter speed for you — automatically. The eye — which is no larger than the head of a paper match — is so sensitive that it "sees" in the dim light of your living room, on a bright, sunny beach, anywhere!

Pictures indoors without flashbulbs? Just clip on the wink-light — the eye makes the correct settings automatically.

Outdoors in bright light you don't even have to focus. Just aim and snap. Everything in the picture from 3 feet to miles away will be sharp.

Remember, your picture is ready on the spot, only a moment after you snap it. Isn't this the way you want to take pictures?

This is the tiny micro-eye that sets exposure automatically both indoors and out.

U. C. Political Science Expert In Free Lecture

Dr. Harold H. Fisher, visiting professor of political science at the University of California, will address the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula, at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Carmel High School cafeteria. His address, The Soviet Challenge to American Foreign Policy, will be given with the co-sponsorship of the Carmel Adult School and is open to the public without charge. This is the fifth lecture in the study group series on Tension Spots and Situations.

Dr. Fisher, an authority on international relations, traveled widely in the Soviet Union and Central and Eastern Europe during the post World War I years as an officer in the American Relief Administration under Herbert Hoover. He has traveled abroad extensively since 1949, when he took a trip around the world with visits to the Middle East, Pakistan, India, Burma, Malaya, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Japan and islands of the Trust Territories of the Western Pacific. He was head of the American delegation to international conferences at Lucknow in 1950, and Kyoto in 1954, and in 1953 was chairman of a Japanese-American Conference in Hawaii. In 1954 he lectured at Tokyo and other Japanese universities.

In World War II he was Director of the Civil Affairs Training School and the School of Naval Administration which was conducted for the training of officers for military government and intelligence duties in Europe, the Far East, and the Pacific Islands.

Dr. Fisher has been professor of international relations at San Francisco State College, visiting professor of history in the Russian Institute, Columbia University, and is now chairman emeritus of the Hoover Institute and Library at Stanford University. He is a member of the American Joint Committee on Slavic Studies and author of numerous volumes on world affairs. His latest books are The Communist Revolution, 1955, Russia and the West 1920-1927 published in 1957. He was editor and contributor to the book, American Research on Russia printed in 1959. Besides his academic work, Dr. Fisher has been an editorial writer for the Washington, D.C., Herald, and news analyst for the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company.

CHAMBER CONCERT TO BE GIFT FROM SYMPHONY

A Christmas concert of music for chamber orchestra will be offered to the public without charge on Monday evening, 8:00 o'clock in the Parish Hall of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

The concert will be performed by Die Kammermusiker, string players of the Monterey County Symphony, under the direction of Ronald Ondrejka. The orchestra, its conductor and the Symphony Association are presenting the Christmas program as a gift to the Peninsula in appreciation of its support and encouragement of the symphony.

Featured work on the program will be the Christmas Concerto of Corelli. Ondrejka will also lead Die Kammermusiker in chamber works by Handel, Mozart, and Legrenzi.

The Christmas concert will be the first of several special events in which the symphony will participate during the remainder of the 1960-61 season. On January 29, the full orchestra will present a joint program with the Hartnell Community Chorus at Salinas High School. The orchestra's annual free concerts for school chil-

Judy, Sarah Lawrence, Soloist

Judy Drake, a sophomore student at Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, New York, will not come home for Christmas. Instead she will attend classes at the Martha Graham School in New York. Her father, Lawrence Drake, will spend the holidays with her. He intended to fly East to see Judy dance a leading role in the Carmina Burana presented at Sarah Lawrence, Tuesday and yesterday, but the snow storm in the East prevented him from arriving in time for the performances.

Judy, a 1959 Carmel High School graduate and one of five graduates to receive the first gold pin scholarship awards, is a dance major at Sarah Lawrence. She has also studied dancing at Silvermine Guild in Connecticut and the Halperin-Lathrop School in San Francisco, with Joanne Nix in Carmel, Patricia Ramsey in Monterey, and with Jose Limon, Merce Cunningham and Martha Graham in 1957 and 1959 at the Connecticut College Summer School of the Dance.

Glaser's Have New Grandson

Mr. and Mrs. John Winnett (Peggy Glaser) of New York are the parents of a son, John Winnett III, born on December 7. The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James M. R. Glaser of Pebble Beach.

Mrs. Glaser has just returned from a visit in Honolulu with another daughter, Mrs. Hartley C. Dewey, Major Dewey and their four children.

Red Williams Coming Home

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams are looking forward to a Christmas visit from their older son, Richard. He is studying architecture at Harvard University. Before returning to his studies this fall, he spent a year traveling in Europe and has not been home for a year and a half.

The Williams' son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Chaffey, with their son, year-and-a-half-old John, also will be home. Dr. Chaffey is a surgery interne at the University of California at Los Angeles Hospital.

Not coming home for Christmas is Dr. and Mrs. Williams' younger son, John, a first year student at the University of Chicago. He plans a visit to the Eastern seaboard, then "exploring Chicago." John writes he has been so busy with studies he hasn't had time to really see the city in which he is living.

Stuefloten Family Gathers

All Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stuefloten's family will be home for Christmas. Jerry Stuefloten, now on a cruise to Acapulco with the Coast Guard will be home for the holiday, his service completed. He will return to college after Christmas. His twin brother, Jon, now living in San Jose, also will come home for Christmas. Penny Stuefloten, Guzik, and her husband, John Guzik, guard on the Los Angeles Rams football team, will be home, too, and remain in Carmel until next football season. The family party will be completed by the Stuefloten's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crampton, local residents.

Mexican Christmas For Halletts

Jim and Carol Hallett will spend the Christmas holiday in Mexico. They will drive from San Francisco to the border, then fly to Guadalajara. Jim is the son of Mrs. Alta Hallett of Carmel. Carol's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hal Boyd of Carmel Highlands.

Go To San Francisco Ball

Local residents planning to attend the C. Mark Thomas-Roger Lapham Jr. ball in San Francisco on Tuesday evening are Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor Pillsbury, who will entertain at a dinner party at the Mark Hopkins Hotel before the ball, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse, Mrs. Francis McComas, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hatley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Gara, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John M. Marble, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Work, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Work, Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Pringle, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bucquet, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Stewart Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Edmund von Hasseln, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Meyer and Admiral and Mrs. E. E. Yeomans.

Hat Party At Feingarten

Photographs by Steve Crouch and paintings by Arthur Okamura will be previewed at the Feingarten Galleries' Christmas Hat Party tomorrow evening from 8:00-11:00 o'clock. Guests invited to the affair are requested to design and wear an unusual hat. Last year the hat party disclosed

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Not meaning to complain or anything, but most of our new Christmas books just have not arrived. Reviews come out in September or early October and we order them quickly so that we will have them by December. When do they get here? Just about in time for Easter, that's all. So Merry Christmas with all the old books, some of which were new last spring, as is customary, and with the few new ones which actually came.

One of the things a library does at intervals all the year around is comb the shelves for books worthy of rebinding and see that they get to the bindery. We are just unpacking ten boxes of books fresh from rebinding, and we hope that you will note their gay new covers, and take out your old favorites for rereading. With trimmed edges, strongly sewed backs, and new covers they look like new books and read even better. Always at holiday time our book shipments are held up, probably by the terrific rush of Christmas mailing, and we are happy to have attractive rebound books to offer. They are good ones or we would never have spent the money to have them rebound.

If you like to make the gifts you give, we have a couple of new books which must be helpful because they seem to be circulating most of the time. One is called Modern Soft Toy Making and was written by Margaret Hutchings. The other is Modern Hobbies, Arts and Crafts by Bill Newgold. If working in mosaics is your interest we have for you Mosaic Patterns by Edwin Hendrickson. We searched for two years for books on mosaics, with no result, and now all at once there are many of them. Might have been an answer to prayer.

People who get long vacations may be planning to do something useful between Christmas and New Year and two books recently received might be just the help they need. The one in Building Construction; Roof Framing, by Alanzo Wass. The other is the Chilton Auto Repair Manual. Or would this be a good time to brush up on a hobby such as photography? We have Hans Reich's book Children of Many Lands, and also the 1961 U.S. Camera Annual. Wonderful stuff.

There are some new travel books, and several new popular biographies. Come in and browse as soon as your Christmas shopping is done. Rest and be thankful.

EDGAR BISSANTZ TO PRESENT HOLIDAY TRANSPARENCIES

Edgar Bissantz will present Swiss Holiday, a program of 300 color slides which he made in Switzerland, at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre at 8:00 o'clock on Tuesday evening. The series will feature scenes of St. Moritz made last Christmas, as well as views of life in Lugano, Locarno, Lucerne, Geneva and the Swiss countryside. Tickets are available at the Browse Around Music Shop.

Carmel Ready For Students

From the East, South, Middle West, Northwest, Southern and Northern California, Carmel college students arrive home for Christmas starting tomorrow.

All is in readiness. The Christmas trees are lit on Ocean Avenue. Winter waves have washed the beach, rains rinsed dust from pines. In sunshine, the ocean sparkles brighter than any star atop a tree. Even the Carmel Hill interchange is finished and tidied for the college students' homecoming, and new green grass is on the hills.

From the venerable Berkeley campus of the University of California, arriving students are Churchill Carmalt, Les Laky, Wendy Draper, Katy Fry, Karen Oleson, Peter DePetra, John Durein, Toby Edson, Pat Giarratana, Frank Palmer, Suzi Smith, Bill True, Liz van Loben Sels, Carey Edson, Mat Laky, Dave Kahn, Carla Wagenman, Cecelia Pilone, Randi Randolph, Jeff Bannister, Mike Cook, Bonnie White, Linda Stager, Mary Ann Purvis, Nancy Lofton.

From the Davis campus of the University of California, Christmas homecomers are John Doud, John Williams, Dale Dawson, Lucinda Lloyd, Kathy Aldrich, Phyllis Clayton, Ellen McKelvey, Ethel Prowell, and Betsy Helm.

Humboldt State College holiday-ers are Richard Fraser, Clyde Klaumann, David Farr, Parker Pollock; University of Southern California, Leslie Geyer and Jack Faia; Mills College, Linda League, Denise Scott, Judy van Loben Sels; Dominican College, Hansi DePetra and Daphne Craige; Pomona College, Jennie Hill, Eric Norberg, Bill Wallace, Bob Marshall and Polly Gann; Patty Thorndike; Occidental College.

Carmel students coming home from Harvard are Boz Williams and Richard Williams; Radcliffe College, Ciji Ware. Mike Raggett is flying from the United States

Ade Bennett and Lee Harms will be home from Antioch College; Steven Gann, University of Oklahoma; Robin Way, University of Idaho; Roddy McArthur, Colorado College for Women, Chips Wood, Wesleyan University.

Students from the Northwest who are coming home are Hilary Teague, Sam Farr, Annabelle Herbert and Durell Decker, Willamette University; Kit Jones, Bill Doolittle, Richard Tetley, University of Oregon; Bob Leidig, Ron Faia, Ann del Carlo, Oregon State; Todd Wiekhorst, Whitman College; Mike Blanton, Reed College.

San Jose State College students expected home for Christmas are Diane Miller, Marilyn Reid, Shirley Flint, Donna Sands, Martin McAulay, Richard James; Marcia Hellam from San Francisco State College; Carolyn Burde, the University of Nevada; Bob Paul, Tom Stanford and Charlie Rogers, Cal Poly; Dick Goularte, the Citadel in South Carolina.

Walt Helm, the University of San Francisco; Jean Fehring, Bert Blanks, Jim Aitken, Janel Smith, Chico State College; Mary Buffington, College of the Pacific; Deen Rowe and Craig Smith, Menlo College; Mike Bein, Alfred Dopico and Kate Williams, Sacramento State College; John Morse, University of Arizona; Rodney Phillips, Lassen Junior College, George Whiteman, San Francisco City College.

To all of these students the Pine Cone wishes a Merry Christmas and a fine New Year. And if anyone is forgotten, please telephone and tell us you are home.

Holly Ball On December 23

The four Monterey Peninsula chapters of the Children's Home Society; Littlebits, Punch and Judy, Winnie the Pooh and Mother Goose, will hold their annual Holly Ball on December 23 at Del Monte Lodge. The formal dinner dance is a benefit for the society, only licensed adoption agency in California.

Mrs. William H. Forestelle is general chairman. She is being assisted by Mrs. Frederic E. Rainier, ticket chairman, and Mrs. William D. Concolino, decorations chairman. Members of the ticket committee include Mrs. Gordon Williams, Mrs. Loran A. List Jr. and Mrs. Phil Firstman. Decorating committee members are Mrs. Malcolm I. Templeton, Mrs. John Burns and Mrs. Jack Mathys for Punch and Judy; Mrs. Edwin R. Hoyt and Mrs. G. D. Hodgson for Littlebits; Mrs. Mel Lipp and Mrs. Kuhlman Fluehr for Winnie the Pooh; and Mrs. Richard Phinney and Mrs. George Walker for Mother Goose. Mrs. Jack Stalaker is in charge of publicity.

Masons Meet Friday

Carmel Lodge No. 680, F.&A.M., will hold a special meeting tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock in the

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

Telephone people have an important part in America's effort to send man into outer space. Western Electric, the manufacturing branch of the Bell Telephone System, heads a group of companies building a world-wide network of tracking stations.

The stations will track the capsule and send command signals to it. They will also receive signals reporting the spaceman's physical condition and provide direct communication between him and his earthbound colleagues.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration sponsors the project.

Carmel Writer Is Leader Against State Executions

result will be a public forum in which majority and minority reports are given and panel members are open to questions from the audience. "We are sure that our point of view, whether it be that of the panel majority or minority, will receive a great many converts from those willing to look at the evidence," Gorn said.

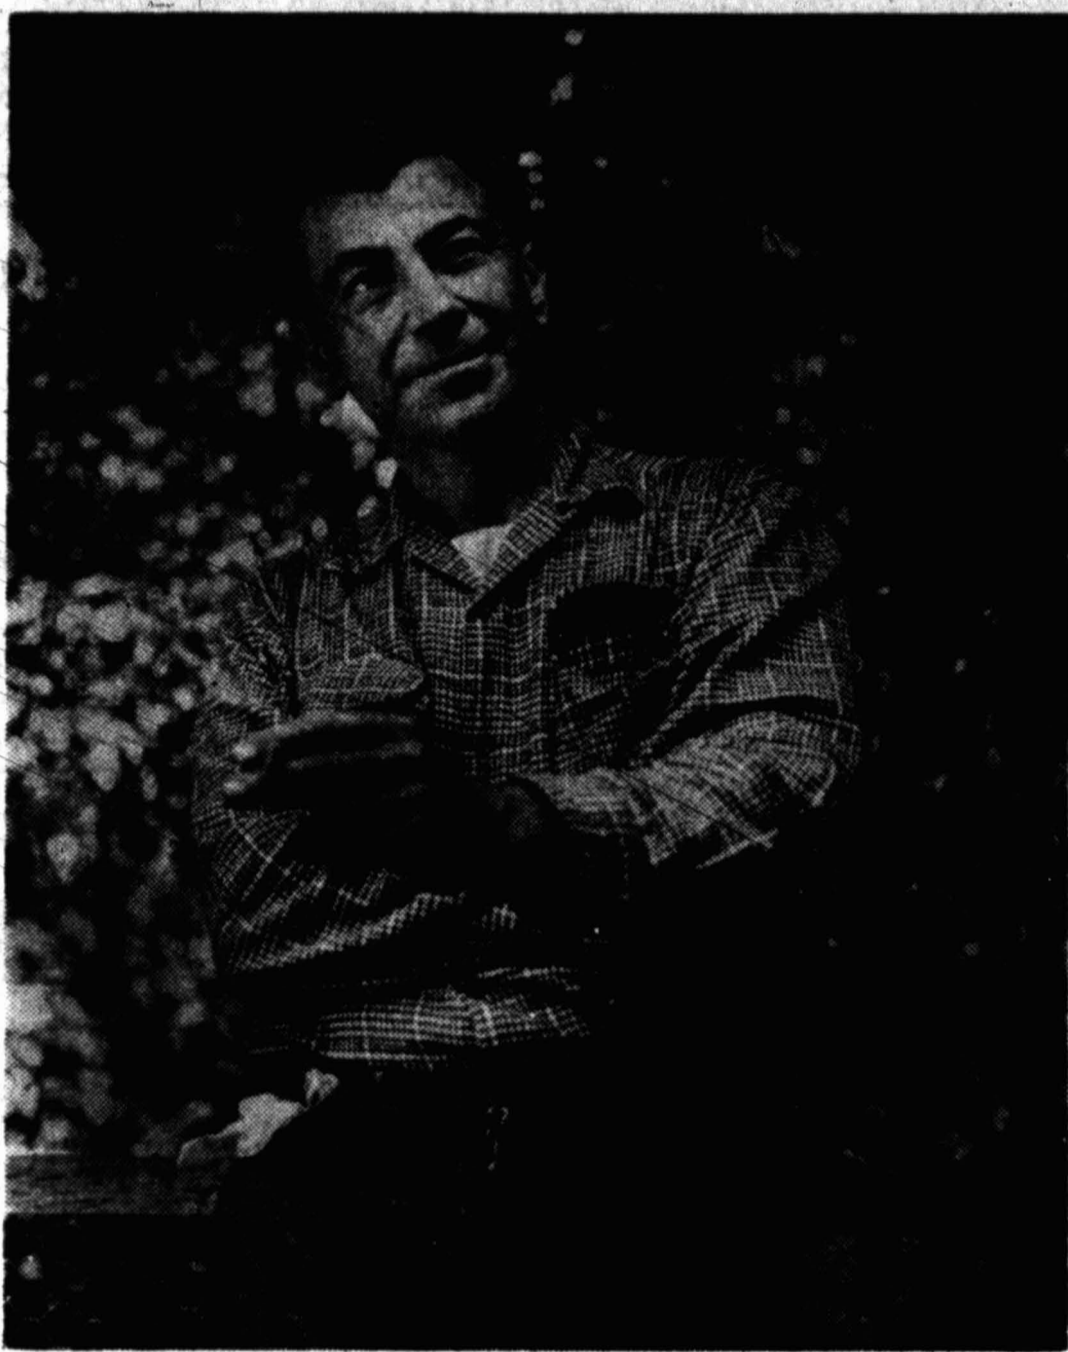

Movies on the topic and speakers available to public and private groups will also be on the program of CASE for 1961, along with vigils of the same kind which have been kept at the Salinas courthouse on the eve of every state execution since last April.

Gorn, who is by profession a writer, is the author of The Anglo Saxon, a novel based on his own experiences as a fighter in the Israeli War. He also served in World War II.

Gorn's strong, unequivocal language with regard to the capital punishment issue reflects his equally strong feelings on the matter.

"We are against capital punishment because we believe it is inequitable, capricious and brutal and, perhaps most important to some, it is not the deterrent to the crime of homicide which penologists formerly believed it to be.

"This is our judgment and we feel confident it is the judgment of the California legislators. However we realize that public opinion has not really been presented with the known facts about this, mostly because the average person does not want to explore the question. When presented with it, he will flinch and look away.

"I have said capital punishment is inequitable. It is a matter of record that most of those who go to the gas chamber in this state are Negroes or Mexican-Americans, impoverished and without friends.

"Warden Lewis E. Laws testifying last April before the Senate Judiciary Committee at the special hearing said he has never seen a rich man go to the gas chamber. This is probably not because of favoritism on the part of the jury, but because the reasonably well-to-do man can employ adequate legal help and has friends who will help.

"Capital punishment is brutal. We cannot believe the state can correct murder by murder. We do not feel it is proper for an executioner in our day in the pay of the state, with all the pomp and circumstance of the state, to put a man to death at a set time.

"The threat of capital punishment does not deter crime. If you take the states in which capital punishment has been outlawed, in some cases since the middle of last century, and compare them with states where it still exists, you will find in every instance where any fair comparison is made that the state without capital punishment has the lower homicide rate."

Gorn said also that the matter

The definition of legal sanity, however, has been obsolete since its inception, I believe.

"Virtually all anti-social behavior is due in part to society, yet our law insists that a man is responsible for his actions if he knows the difference between right and wrong at the moment of the crime, or is capable of knowing the law forbids it.

"Jail should be for purposes of correction and hospitalization. I would hope that some day, a hundred years from now, a thousand, there would be no jails and no need for them. Psychology has made a start in this direction but it is only a start.

"Speaking of deterrents to crime, historic England has capital punishment for some 200 crimes, including pocket picking. Yet at the very moment a crowd gathered to watch a pick-pocket hanged, other thieves were going through it picking pockets.

"Among the free countries of continental Europe, only France now has capital punishment for other than political crimes. Though Israel passed a capital punishment law for genocide only, with Eichmann in mind, it seems to me Israel would have much more to gain in not executing than in executing him. It could be the greatest lesson against vengeance ever taught.

"Though I oppose vengeance in the hands of the state, I am obviously not a pacifist in the usual meaning of the word," he said. I believe some wars are justified, the Israeli, and the Korean wars and World War II, to name three. But there is a great difference between a nation fighting back in defense of itself or another nation and the state killing a single, unarmed individual," Gorn said.

Then he added, "What has made man so ruthless and animalistic as he is in some areas? I don't know the answer to that, but I believe abolishment of capital punishment will help erase one stain on the human race."

Music On The Peninsula

Interesting Christmas music is being given widely in the schools and churches throughout Peninsula cities this week and part of next. A rendering of The Messiah with well known local soloists takes place at the Carmel Presbyterian Church. At all Saints' Parish Hall, on Monday evening, an outstanding event will be the Kammermusik by a chamber orchestra under Ronald Ondrejka* composed of many of the string players of the Monterey County Orchestra. The program will include Corelli's Christmas Concerto and works by Handel, Mozart and Legrenzi. The full Symphony Orchestra is also to be heard with the Hartnell Community Chorus at the Salinas High School in January, the free concerts for children in February and the regular Spring Symphony concerts for Carmel and Salinas in March.

The second week's program of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's Season presents pianist Eugene Istomin who has collaborated with Casals for the past three years in his Festival de Puerto Rico. Besides playing the Chopin* Concerto No. 2, he premieres a concerto by the Los Angeles composer Leon Kirchner who is currently professor of music at Mills College. This I hope to hear on Saturday, but return in time to review the Kammermusik Concert.

brother, George Gossler of San Mateo; and a sister, Mrs. William Zarrow of Anchorage, Alaska.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday in Mehl's Colonial Chapel, Watsonville, with the Reverend Reginald Rosson of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Watsonville, officiating.

Girl Scouts Carol For Community In Park On Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon, 5:00 o'clock, Carmel Girl Scouts and Brownies will join together to present a program of Christmas carols at Devendorf Plaza. This is the girls' gift to the community and Mrs. James S. Neill, Girl Scout neighborhood chairman, invites all residents to attend.

Robert B. Forbes will lead the singing. Mrs. Richard Lofton has helped with organizing the event. She has met with a Scout representative from each troop to select the carols that will be sung.

Following the program, Girl Scouts will march to the post office to carol for the hard working postal staff. Some troops, individually, will visit various other locations after the program.

Rose Hudson

Rose Gossler Hudson, former Carmel resident, died in Watsonville on Sunday. She was 34 years old.

Mrs. Hudson was born in Texas but came to live in Carmel as a small child. She was a graduate of both Sunset School and Carmel High School. Her home was in Carmel until six years ago when she married Tom Hudson of Watsonville.

In addition to her mother, Mrs. Hudson is survived by a daughter, Kathy Lane Hudson; her mother, Mrs. Rose Gossler of Carmel; a

Jet To Germany For Christmas

Kurt and Hildegard von Meier leave New York by jet flight on Sunday to spend the Christmas holidays in Germany with Hildegard's parents, Professor Doctor Karl Clauberg and Mrs. Clauberg of Berlin. They will land in London, spend a day in England and extend Christmas greetings to Mrs. Harold Truscott of Carmel who is visiting her son, Whitney Truscott, and his family in Surrey. Mrs. Truscott is the aunt of Dr. A. Carol McKenney of Pebble Beach.

Another flight from London to Berlin and Hildegard and Kurt will be greeted by the former's parents. They will enjoy with them a German Christmas in the Clauberg lakeside home at Schlachten-see. On January 3 Kurt and Hildegard will fly to France and spend several days in Paris before returning to New Jersey where Kurt is working for his Ph.D. in art history at Princeton University and Hildegard is assistant to the head of the biology department.

Meanwhile in Carmel, Mrs. Julian von Meier, Kurt's mother, will have a family Christmas with her two daughters and their families. Around her Christmas dinner table will be Mr. and Mrs. A. Carol McKenney III with their children, Erin, Gael and Carol V, also Mr. and Mrs. John Christian with Brian, Adrienne and Seanneen. Mrs. Leigh Matison, Mrs. von Meier's mother, and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leigh of Hillsborough, with their daughter, Mrs. John Cafall and her son John, Jr. will also be part of the holiday gathering. Mrs. von Meier promises them all "eir kringle, pfefferneuse, springerle and a decorated tannenbaum, but no snow." The latter will be Kurt and Hildegard's German treat.

AFA Elects New Officers

The Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts elected new officers at their general meeting last week in Carmel High School. They also adopted by-laws and heard their articles of incorporation as a non-profit organization.

Robert William Nelson is AFA president for 1961. Other officers are: Mrs. Rama Stearns, vice president; Edgar Bissanz, recording secretary; Helen Benecke, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Stearns, treasurer.

Mrs. Nellie Montague, retiring president, will be in charge of public relations next year; Victor Velissaratos, housing; Leonard Heller, project development; Mrs. Douglas MacGregor, hospitality. Roderick L. Dewar is legal advisor to the AFA chapter.

Miss Lindsay-Oliver Home

Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver is greeting friends, voice and piano pupils at her studio home at San Carlos Street and Thirteenth Avenue after an absence of several months in England and Scotland.

Miss Lindsay-Oliver returned to the United States on the Queen Elizabeth. During the voyage she completed a portrait of her friend Commodore Donald MacClain, captain of the Elizabeth.

This was a pleasant experience, according to Miss Lindsay-Oliver. She worked in the Commodore's sitting room, between his visits to the bridge to direct the running of his ship. He stated that "never before" had an artist painted his portrait during a voyage.

Miss Lindsay-Oliver also was commissioned to paint a full-length portrait while she was in Helensburgh, Scotland. She took with her to this town three portraits, finished in her Carmel studio, and commissioned on her last trip to the British Isles. She also visited in Edinburgh and in England, seeing as many members of her family as possible.

In the East, Mrs. Lindsay-Oliver stopped in Chevy Chase, Maryland, and on Long Island, before returning to Carmel in time for the second concert of the Monterey County Symphony. She writes the program notes for the Symphony programs and is the Pine Cone music critic.

Shaws Off To Hawaii Tomorrow

Virginia and Will Shaw will drive to San Francisco tonight and tomorrow leave by jet for a Christmas holiday in the Hawaiian Islands. Their itinerary includes a brief stay in Honolulu, then flights to the islands of Maui, Kauai and Hawaii for a five-day visit on each. They will fly back in January 5 and arrive home on Twelfth Night.

Children's Holiday Events

At the Beach Club on Sunday afternoon, members' children will have a Christmas party starting with a movie at 3:30 o'clock, followed by a visit from Santa Claus.

Thursday afternoon from 2:00-4:30 o'clock children of members of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club will gather at the clubhouse for a Christmas party.

Tuesday at 2:00 o'clock Beach Club children will participate in a gymkhana. The games on horseback will begin at the Pebble Beach Riding Stables at 2:00 o'clock. Australian Pony Club members, who arrive here tomorrow for the Christmas holidays, will take part in the gymkhana.

"Jump on behind me and come for a ride," invited Sparky Russell last Friday morning at the Dolores Street entrance to the post office. Dr. Remsen Bird, mail in hand, accepted the invitation.

The former president of Occidental College and postal clerk Sparky put-putted around the block to the bank on the tiny Vespa scooter which Sparky parks, during duty hours, in the post office basement.

The Monterey County Planning Commission referred to the City of Monterey plans submitted by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for a new power line with towers 80-100 feet high on hills west of the Monterey-Salinas highway, adjacent to Fisherman's Flat model subdivision.

County Commissioner Keith Evans asked P.G.&E. representatives why the power line could not be placed underground as is done in the East. "Too expensive," was the answer he received.

The county planning commission on Tuesday delayed action on the 84-lot Allamprese subdivision in Carmel Highlands, until January 10, legal date on which they must make a decision. They referred the matter back to an advisory committee. Highlands residents repeatedly have objected to the hillside development in Fern Canyon.

E. Cashion MacLennan has presented to the City of Carmel for its permanent art collection, her oil painting, Flocking Gulls. This painting has been exhibited at the New York World's Fair, The Golden Gate Exposition, Santa Barbara Museum, Los Angeles Art Museum, and in other juried shows.

E. Cashion MacLennan's work is in several public collections, including that of the Santa Barbara Museum, University of California at Santa Barbara, Tennent Foundation Gallery, Honolulu, California State Library at Sacramento, and many private collections.

Yesterday afternoon the Arts Commission accepted the painting on behalf of the city. It will be hung in city hall.

The student government class at Sunset School is busy with Christmas projects; preparing tray favors, scrapbooks, decorations and toys for children who are patients in the county hospital during the Christmas season, and collecting canned goods for the Community Christmas Fund.

Carmel's Nancy Lofton, teacher in Monte Vista School, Monterey, was the only person to ask Dr. Edward Teller of the University of California a question Saturday night after he discussed Pyramid of Puzzles at the California Mathematics Council general session in

"How would you teach pupils to multiply using Roman numerals?", Nancy queried.

Silence. Then Dr. Teller said, "I think I would forget about it."

City Clerk Larry Rose was elected secretary of the Monterey County Cooperative Council at a meeting of the group on Friday evening. He replaces James Sullivan, assistant Monterey city manager, who is leaving this area to become Ojai city manager.

At noon today senior students in Carmel High civics courses heard a panel discussion on The Role of the Legislator. Speakers were Mrs. Adrian Bennett, Carmel School District trustee, former Carmel Mayor Horace Lyon, and City Councilman Gunnar Norberg.

Editorial . . .

(Continued from Page One) man's case special in any way. If he is granted a re-classification, everyone on the periphery of the business district will ask and has a right to receive, the same consideration.

Carmel has the largest business district in proportion to its residence district of any city in the State of California. That's why former councils and planning commissions have held that commercial zone boundary like a fortress. Any breach in it would be a disaster.

Church of the Wayfarer Services

Christmas Sunday Services at the Church of the Wayfarer will be held at 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock in the morning on December 18. The Chapel Singers, directed by John W. Farr, will sing Glory to God in the Highest by Pergolesi and Skinner's The Christ Child Lay, as well as the introit: Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming by Praetorius. A Children's Choir, composed of 45 Church School pupils, directed by Mrs. Robert E. Cater will sing the Appalachian Mountain carol: Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head, as arranged by John Jacob Niles, and Alfred Burt's Some Children See. Dr. Gray will conduct the service using as his sermon theme: This Is the Word. Connell K. Carruth's pipe organ selections will include Gretchaninoff's Cradle Song, Solone's The Shepherds, and Saraband by Correlli.

The traditional candlelight Christmas Eve services at the Church of the Wayfarer will be held again this year, with special music to be announced next week.

Charles Pierce

Charles Henry Pierce Jr. died on December 9 in a local hospital after a short illness. He was a dealer in oil properties who had lived in Pebble Beach for the past two years.

Mr. Pierce was born in Columbus, Georgia, on October 30, 1915. He served with the Air Force during World War II. His home was at Riata Road and Alvarado Lane.

He is survived by his wife, Sally, and two children, Wendy Lou and Charles Henry Pierce II, all of Pebble Beach.

Funeral services were held on Monday in the Mission Mortuary with the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial was in Mission Memorial Park.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Pierce may do so in the form of donations to charities of their choice.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Scriptural selections will include Christ Jesus' striking response to his disciples' call for help during the tempest at sea:

"And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm" (Matthew 8:25, 26).

A correlative citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The belief that the universe, including man, is governed in general by material laws, but that occasionally Spirit sets aside these laws,—this belief belittles omnipotent wisdom, and gives to matter the precedence over Spirit" (83:16).

ALADDIN IN CARMEL

Re-printed below is a newspaper clipping, written by a roving reporter, who was greatly taken by the wondrous things displayed in Mr. Winter's shop, The Village Jeweler, on Dolores Street.

"Aladdin, lost in his cave and putting out his hand to the trees which bore the fruits of glorious color and fashioned of precious stones, was no more astounded than is the Carmel visitor who just happens into the 'ear-ring' shop. It can't be, one thinks, on being told that there is a place whose sole stock in trade is ear-rings. It is altogether unlikely that a merchant would say, 'This one thing I do', and then stick to ear-rings, of all things.

"And it isn't quite that way, really, because there are a few — a very few — other bits of jewelry to be found in this little cave. But these are far outshone by the main item, a piece de resistance which whets but never satisfies the appetite.

"Recently a New York salesman unloaded his sample cases before the doorway of this small establishment. He came as missionary to unknown parts, for isn't Carmel, California, a tiny hinterland village which tries hard but doesn't quite know 'how? On stepping inside, he fell back, dismayed. 'Oh, no!' was his shout of disbelief. There was no need for missionary work here—not in his department, anyhow.

"The Village Jeweler", whose astute owners have collected all this loot and put it under one roof, literally has the largest and most surprising display of ear-rings in the United States. No foolin'. And it takes a mighty stout-hearted woman to pass up the feast.

"Did your grandmother own some beautifully wrought bracelets of soft gold, with classic designs running through the pattern? And, having had these appraised, have you taken them down to the bank for safe keeping? You can match them here in ear-rings, and at a painless price. Persons knowing the value of Grandma's keep-sakes will be properly impressed at the ear-rings you have chosen to go with them, and you can save the price of an extra safety deposit box.

"Every color of the spectrum, softly muted, is here, in ascending or descending scale, as to hues and shades and tints. If it's azure or lapis lazuli or rose or emerald or amethyst or topaz or gold or silver you prefer, you mention it. At once you find yourself in the predicament of the fellow who likes pie and is let loose in the cafeteria where the chef has out-done himself this day with apple and peach and cherry and lemon and chocolate and gooseberry and blueberry and raisin and custard and currant and squash and mince. He can't eat them all but he's happier than larks in the pop-corn.

"There are whole trays of each color, quite by itself. And these range in style from what you would wear to your Grand-Aunt Emma's tea for the ladies' knitting group to something dazzling for a night on the town in company with six drunken sailors. You accept a lapful of jewels from the trusting soul who is the proprietor and have yourself a big time. All HE has to do is hope your check won't bounce.

"There is something barbaric in almost every female. She 'hates' jewelry, maybe, but when she says 'jewelry' she almost never means little things to stick in her ears. Count the number of women you see who are not wearing brooches, bracelets, rings, necklaces or tiaras but who are wearing ear-rings. That's because The Little Woman feels kind of undressed without them. The Village Jeweler is for the likes of her. And it's worth the trip — from ANY distance. A Christmas shoppers' paradise."—Adv.

Planners Reminded They Free-Wheel No Longer With Interim Ordinance

Planning commissioners yesterday afternoon devoted the major part of their study session to discussing procedure for issuance of building permits under the new zoning ordinance. They also were urged by City Attorney John Morse to consider additional C-1-L zone locations, determine aspects of P-3 zone and set up standards for sign control.

Building Inspector Floyd Adams awakened commissioners to the fact that, under the new zoning ordinance effective next month, the commission would no longer consider business district building plans in detail as they have under the interim zoning ordinance for the past six years.

"You will have no questions to ask but live by a body of law," he pointed out, referring to the fact that his office would henceforth rule whether plans met construction, land use and landscaping demands.

A design board, composed of members of the commission, would review his recommendations, as provided in the new ordinance, but the commission as a whole would only have to pass a resolution to grant a building permit, Mr. Adams continued.

"You will only have to review plans with a negative report from my office and the design board," he added.

Commissioner Fred Keeble stated he would like each committee of the commission to see all plans during study sessions and have the design review board consist of the planning commission as a whole. Chairman Herbert Blanks suggested the present steering committee could function as the design board.

Mr. Adams indicated it was desirable to have the design board a subordinate body to the commission but, if each commission committee, land use, architectural and public improvements, were to study all plans, six persons in all, procedure would be cumbersome.

Commissioners considered the design board should be a minority body to the planning commission as a whole. Mr. Keeble suggested the board meet before each commission study session so that commissioners would be cognizant of plans subject to their final approval for a building permit. Mr. Blanks postponed further discussion to a January meeting of the commissioners.

Mr. Morse stated, "It is most important and advisable that the commission, as rapidly as possible, work on the C-1-L one." He was referring to the request of the city council that the commission consider expanding C-1-L zone, now limited to each side of Ocean Avenue, Monte Verde to Casanova Streets, to other areas of the business district presently in motel and apartment use.

He also asked commissioners to determine, what should go into P-3 (parking park) zone, at present flexible. Earlier Mr. Adams had pointed out that floodlighting requirements for parking areas was not a uniform problem. A private lot, like Pine Inn's, did not need as much illumination as a public lot, such as a market's. The latter, when closed, created a community police problem.

Lastly Mr. Morse emphasized the necessity for setting up a pattern and standards for business district signs, particularly in regard to aesthetics.

At their regular meeting next week planning commissioners can commence rezoning public lands, City Clerk Larry Rose stated. The forestry, recreation, and arts commissions have met in special sessions this week and prepared recommendations on this matter for the planning commission's guidance, he continued.

Also on next week's agenda will be the petition for rezoning Forest Lodge land, the triangle between Ocean, Mountain View and Torres; also a sign above eave line for Carmel Toy Shop; lighting at the Purity Store parking lot.

DEER CAUSES ACCIDENT

Maurice Wall was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital on Monday morning, 4:42 o'clock, in the Red Cross Ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. He received injuries in an accident at San Antonio Street and Eighth Avenue.

Wall stated to police that he swerved to avoid hitting a deer which jumped into the road and his car rammed a tree.
